

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's explore a famous site in China!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about places and attractions.
- I can ask and report about things and events.
- I can ask and say how far a place is.

Ask your partner:

- What do you know about China?
- Do you want to go to China? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Sally is at The Great Wall of China!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Yesterday, I visited the Great Wall of China.

Here's some history about this structure. The wall wasn't built in one generation. Many generations of builders helped to create it. Builders in the 5th century BC started the Great Wall to keep out the tribes who lived north of China.

The first step was to connect the existing walls of Chinese states. The wall that stands today was built by emperors of the Ming Dynasty between the 14th and 17th centuries.

It's about 55 miles from Beijing. To walk from one end of the Great Wall to the other is 4,000 miles! It runs from western China to the Yellow Sea.

There are many towers along the wall. Guards used to stand in these towers, watching and sending signals back to the capital city.

Let's Practice!

Sally has questions. Can you match the questions with the answers?

Instructions: Read the questions on the left. Check off the correct answer in the table. There is one answer per question.

	Builders in the 5th century BC started the Great Wall to keep out the tribes who lived north of China.	The wall that stands today was built by emperors of the Ming Dynasty between the 14th and 17th centuries.	Guards stood in these towers, watching and sending signals back to the capital city.
Why are there so many towers?
Why did they build the Great Wall?
When was it built?

Let's Practice!

How many miles is that?

Instructions: Read the text. Proofread the text. Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 mistake.

- 1) How fars is The Great Wall of China from Beijing?
- 2) The Great Wall of Beijing is about 55 miles from Beijing.
- 3) How far is the end of the wall to here?
- 4) To walk from one end of the Great Wall to the other is 4,000 nyles. It runs from western China to the Yellow Sea.

Extension Activity

Let's find out how far some famous attractions are!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go on the internet. Research the distance between your home city and the places in the table below.
- Fill out the table.
- Write sentences about how far each place is.
- Practice asking and saying how far each place is with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I identify the distance to famous attractions in other countries.

☐ ☐

I organize information in a table.

☐ ☐

I ask and answer questions about distance.

☐ ☐

Place/Attraction	How far it is from my city? (miles)	Place/Attraction	How far it is from my city? (miles)
San Francisco		Machu Picchu
Eiffel Tower		Grand Canyon
London Eye		Great Wall of China

Target Words

- structure (noun): something large that is built
e.g. It is an important structure in China.
- The Great Wall of China (noun): a stone wall built across northern China e.g. On my trip, I visited The Great Wall of China.
- capital city (noun): the city in a country where their government is e.g. The guards sent signals to the capital city.
- dynasty (noun): a period of time when a particular family ruled a country
e.g. The emperors were a part of the Ming Dynasty.
- state (noun): an area that makes up a part of a country
e.g. The first step was to connect the walls between the different states.
- emperor (noun): the man who is the ruler of an empire
e.g. Emperors helped build the wall.

Learning Points

Saying How Far a Place Is

When you want to know how far a place is, you can ask the question: How far is... ? / How far is ... from here?

You can reply with a specific distance if you know the answer, like It's 50 yards away.

In the USA, you use the Imperial system, not the metric system.

If a place is nearby, you use yards to say how far it is.

If a place is far, you use miles to say how far it is.

Imperial System	Metric System
1 mile	1.6 kilometers
1 yard	90 centimeters
1 foot	30 centimeters
1 inch	2.5 centimeters

You can use the Simple Present tense to say how far a place is.

Examples:

• Sally: How far is the end of the wall from here?

Guide: It's 4,000 miles away.

The Simple Past Tense

When you travel, you ask and report about things you see. You can use the Simple Past tense to report about the things you see.

Remember, there are regular and irregular verbs.
You use Wh-questions to ask about places you visit.

Examples:

- Who built this?
- Why did you decide to visit the Great Wall?
- I visited the Great Wall of China.
- Many people helped build it.

