Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Let's meet in the lobby.

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information in a limited range of social situations.

With your partner:

- Think about a hotel you would like to stay at.
- Where is it?
- Describe the hotel.
- Does it have a pool? Gym?

Can Do Statements

- I can use homonyms like fall.
- I can say when I'm not sure about an issue.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

Let's Explore!

Sally checked in . Now she's ready to go out!

* To "check in" means to arrive at a hotel and receive your room number.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Excuse me, I need a taxi. I'm going to take a trip to an authentic noodle shop.
- Concierge: Not a problem, Miss. It's a miserable fall day, isn't it?
- Sally: It's cold and there is a problem with the power in this hotel, too. I had to shower in the dark.
- Concierge: I'm so sorry. How's your trip going apart from that?
- Sally: Good, so far. I went to the Great Wall two days ago.
- Concierge: It's the best attraction in China.
- Sally: I don't know about that. There are a lot of steps and I'm still a little sore. Oh ... and the crowds.
- Concierge: Ok, your taxi is here.
- Sally: Thank you.
- Concierge: Watch your step, Miss. Don't trip on the wet floor.
- Sally: Yes, I don't want to fall on these tiles.
- Concierge: These showers haven't stopped. Take this umbrella on the house.
- Sally: Great, thanks.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Homonyms

Homonyms, are words that have the same spelling and the same pronunciation but have different meanings.

For example: trip, fall and shower.

Examples:

- Sally is on a trip to China. (noun: a journey to a place)
Sally tripped on the stairs. (verb: to fall or almost fall)
- It is a nice fall day. (noun: the season when leaves fall from trees)
I don't want to fall on the wet floor. (verb: to go down to a lower position)
- I had a shower at 8 o'clock. (noun: bathing under falling water)
There were a lot of showers today. (noun: a fall of rain)

Expressing Uncertainty

If you are not sure whether something can or can not happen, you can use:

Rising intonation makes you sound uncertain about what you're saying. Uncertainty can also have falling intonation. It depends on the speaker.

Rising Intonation	Falling Intonation
Using: "Well, ..."	Using: "I suppose ... but ..."
It's possible.	I'm not sure.
It's impossible.	I doubt it.
It might be.	I have my doubts.
It might not be.
